

Schedule “B” Fairness Policy

Northern Precious Metals Management Inc. is the manager of Northern limited partnerships. Each limited partnership has a different inception date and expiration date. Each partnership invests the total of its funds through private placements of flow through shares with mining companies to provide investors with tax incentives at or around the time the funds are raised. As a result, there is no allocation of price, commissions, block trades, purchase of hot issues or initial public offerings.

In some infrequent instances, two funds may negotiate a private placement with a mining company. In that case, the price is the same for both funds and the allocation will depend only on the relative size of the two funds.

Because of the nature and obligations of the different limited partnerships, each partnership is managed individually.

When the manager decides for a particular reason to eliminate an entire position, it would be done on a prorated basis if the shares are owned by more than one partnership.
